

Zach Ogilvie

Zach is a dedicated family man and community leader in Gravelbourg, Saskatchewan. As a married father of two young boys, he balances his family life with a deep commitment to his community. Zach is a freelance designer and web developer with nearly 20 years of experience combining creativity and technology. He is an active volunteer in the community, helping with everything from clean-up and beautification initiatives to local theatre productions at the Renaissance Gaiety Theatre.

A passionate advocate for local artists and makers, Zach co-founded the Gravelbourg Artisan Co-operative in 2019, providing a platform for local talent to showcase and sell their work.

His leadership extends to his role as President of the Gravelbourg Chamber of Commerce, where he works to support local businesses and promote economic growth.

In his free time, Zach enjoys woodworking and spending quality time with friends and family. With a strong sense of community and a diverse set of skills, Zach is dedicated to making Gravelbourg a vibrant and thriving place to live.
